FRIETH VILLAGE SOCIETY

NEWSLETTER

February 2024

Welcome to the 'It's still a bit fresh out' February edition

Right, not long now, Spring will be creeping around the corner, which means milder mornings, lighter evenings and as much blossom as you can sweep up. Just imagine, you'll be able to peel off those thermals, stow away those scarves and scrape off the layer of goose grease from your chest that you applied in November (or was that just us?). Whatever the weather, we hope this finds you in fine form and enjoying all the village and its environs have to offer.

Bucks Quiz plays alongside Thin Quizzy

27th January: The annual and ever-popular village quiz was all sold out this year and as usual, didn't disappoint. A fantastic effort by our seasoned quiz masters Patrick Joyce and Steve Taylor, whose planning and creativity made the evening challenging, fun and feisty until the last point was counted.

This year we raised our tech game once again, as David House introduced automated booking and payment, email confirmations, proper ticketing and we even had our very own event QR code. 'What's an event QR code?' we hear you ask? Relax, by next year, he'll be using remote retina scanning and taking payments in BitCoin.

What's in a name?

Team names were traditionally creative, including Bucks Quiz, It's On The Tip of My Tongue, Thin Quizzy, General Waste, Gerry and the Pacemakers, The Questionables, 'And the winners are ...' (and they weren't by the way).

Who thought spaghetti could be so annoying

This year's innovations included a tricky table challenge of building the tallest structure of spaghetti, with enough stability to support a marshmallow during the judging/measuring stage (yes, it takes a twisted mind). Teams were helped by electrical tape, plus group prayer/Sanskrit chanting, to help it stay up. To those who gave in part way through and ate the marshmallow – we salute you.

So, who won?

Congratulations go to The Questionables for a terrific score of 140 points, second was General Waste, 128 points, and third was Bucks Quiz with 126.5. But the real winners were the overall community as we raised £730 for local causes whilst having a terrific night. Thanks again to the whole team, and ...same time next year?

The Village Voice

Frieth finds its 'X-factor'

Join our village singing group

Frieth Singers is a new community singing group, that has been going for a few weeks now and it's proving super popular! Run by Zoe Hatch from Sound & Song CIC in collusion with Nikki Yate, from Frieth Village Society.

The group is simply about the fun of singing and demonstrating how singing is for everyone. You don't need any experience to join. All the music is taught by ear, so you don't even have to read music, you simply need to show up.

Told you it was popular

What type of thing do we sing?

The pieces are easy to learn – folk, soul, gospel and pop, (yes, we get a sheet with the words on). Plus, there are some mindful pieces to soothe the stressed-out 'mindy' types. It's a lovely, fun thing to do and guaranteed to have you leave your day behind and exercise your lungs a bit. Most songs are in English but occasionally we learn tunes from other cultures and languages. Zoe keeps things moving and there's something for everyone.

It's not as serious as this lot is making it look

When do we meet?

Tuesdays in the Village Hall, 7:30 pm - 9:00 pm

What's the cost?

•Charges are £10 per week or a monthly payment plan of £33.00 More details?

•Contact Zoe on 07974 457 925

AND there's a drummer!

Community Matters

A Hot Date in Frieth's Village Hall

It was early January when I began to see posters and Frieth Facebook Community Page notices, where my wife Amanda was offering a "Hot Date" in the Village Hall. Well, you can understand my curiosity at such an invitation. And, when I learned that the hall was likely to be packed, my curiosity became insatiable!

The night arrived and what a hot date it was. The purpose of the evening was to help increase the knowledge of green alternatives to fossil fuel heating as we transition to Net Zero.

'Greener Frieth' arranged for speakers from Delta T, Kimble Solar and Bucks Community Energy who all gave excellent, informative short talks.

As good as the talks were, the stars of the evening were the attendees, who asked excellent questions and were prepared to share information and experience on solar, air and ground source heat pumps.

For anyone who missed their chance of the hot date, an information sheet can be found via this link http://tinyurl.com/GFhomeEnergy

A proper thank you to our delivery team

We wanted to take this opportunity to say a proper thank you to the real unsung heroes of the Newsletter effort, our incredible delivery team.

Let's first express our deep appreciation for our infallible Delivery Team Leader, Irene White, who for over fifteen years now has taken custody of the total print-run and distributed it all over the village to the houses of the individuals who then go on to deliver them to you. This is in addition to delivering her own round through the main village, and it's worth mentioning that Irene's often the fastest to get hers out!

The complete team: In no particular order

Here are the wonderful people we count on in all weathers; in case you're wondering who to thank for yours, we've given hints as to the areas they deliver to.

Mary Webb: Down to Elder Barn and along to Hanson's Bank Juliet Gostelow: Innings Road, beyond 'Down the Lane' along

Spurgrove Lane to the post box and on to Willow

Cottage

Gill & Dick Morbey: Beyond the crossroads and Fingest Road

Judith Emmanuel: Parmoor Area

Rick & Jill Meredith: Ellery Rise to 'Sunnydale'

Penny & Sean Farrelly: Main Road. From Old Parsonage to Innings Gate, across to Colliers Farm and Cherries Corner

Gillian Smith: Hayles Field and Main Road down to the school

Henry Peplow: Shogmoor Lane

Irene White: Frieth Hill, both sides, to school and Church View

Mike & Helen Hall: Moor End Lane area

Irene, David and Benny the dog
